Submissions to the Wood Design & Building Awards program were thoughtful in design and execution; weaving wood architecture into the surrounding landscape in a complimentary and often symbiotic way. The awards program is a unique opportunity to pay homage to design and construction teams that are embracing wood architecture as a solution to the many challenges that they are faced with – from environmental to urban densification.

“The Wood Design & Building Awards program provides a platform to acknowledge the strides that have been made for wood architecture over the years, as well as an opportunity to celebrate the omnipresence of wood in architecture around the world.” explained Etienne Lalonde, Vice-President of Market Development for the Canadian Wood Council. “The range of submissions, from the smallest wood installation to the largest building, displayed a sophistication and innovation that is celebrating in our evolving wood industry.”

The Wood Design & Building magazine, in partnership with the Canadian Wood Council, extends its appreciation to all participants of the 2019 awards program. A special thank you to our sponsors for their ongoing support, as well as our prestigious jury:
